

Shrouds

Anne Carrière-Acco

Author/poet Anne Carrière-Acco has copyright of this article, which can only be used for the enjoyment of its readers. This document cannot be reproduced or quoted without the author's permission.

What are we to do,
With dreadful consequences,
There in?
Shrouds for young women
With bullet wounds,
To be examined.
Minutes ago—students—
The horror of flicking madness
Blood spatter like Endnotes.
On the subject about derangement
“There is a gun man upstairs.”
“Go away. I'm studying.”
Upstairs,
“We are just students,
Are we to die?”
Derangement answered,
No one really understood,
The dreadful consequences,

There in.