It is my honour to present to you the Gabriel Dumont Institute of Native Studies and Applied Research Annual Report for the year 2016-2017 as approved by the Board of Governors. 2016-2017 marks the third and final year of the Gabriel Dumont Institute Strategic Plan 2014-2017, Nurturing Our Culture Preparing Our Future. During the reporting year, the Institute embarked on a strategic planning process to identify its priorities for the next three years.

The Honourable Ralph Goodale, the federal Minister of Public Safety and Emergency Preparedness, announced an $880,000 contribution towards an expansion of the Dumont Technical Institute's La Loche campus. This is the first time in the Institute's history that it has received capital funding.

Construction started during the reporting year on the $1.6 million expansion in La Loche and is expected to be completed in 2017-2018. The Institute is also constructing a second residential unit in La Loche to be used for faculty housing and has initiated a process of expanding its current central office in Saskatoon.

The Gabriel Dumont Institute released its latest research report SUNTEP: An Investment in Saskatchewan's Prosperity in 2016-2017. Authored by University of Saskatchewan economist Eric Howe, the report shows that the Saskatchewan Urban Native Teacher Education Program graduates provide over $13 billion in benefits to Saskatchewan.

The Institute welcomed 24 students from the former Northern Teacher Education Program (NORTEP), a program offered in La Ronge and not affiliated with Gabriel Dumont Institute. To make the transition from NORTEP to SUNTEP easier for the Year Four class of 17 students, the Institute is offering the class in La Ronge.

The Sixth Annual Gabriel Dumont Scholarship Foundation Golf Tournament was held on May 26, 2017 at Moon Lake Golf & Country, Saskatoon. The Tournament was very successful, raising a record $41,715.

GDI continues to be an employer of choice for Métis and for women. During 2016-2017, 53 percent of our employees were self-declared Métis, and 71 percent were women.

On behalf of the GDI Board of Governors, I would like to thank our many partners in government, industry, Saskatchewan education sector, and the community for their support. The investment in Métis-specific education and training provides high levels of return in terms of more skilled Indigenous labour force, higher quality of life, contributing to the provincial and national economy, and advancing the bright future of Indigenous peoples in Saskatchewan. A special thanks to our employees for their commitment and dedication to the Institute and the students.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR MESSAGE

Geordy McCaffrey
Executive Director
Gabriel Dumont Institute

2016-2017 was a busy and productive year at Gabriel Dumont Institute.

Dumont Technical Institute delivered 35 Adult Basic Education and skills training programs to 666 students at 14 centres across Saskatchewan. The Institute is the second largest practical nursing training provider in the province. During the reporting year, 37 students graduated with a Practical Nursing diploma with 79 percent securing employment within three months of graduating.

During 2016-2017, 930 Métis clients accessed Gabriel Dumont Institute Training and Employment programs across all Métis Nation–Saskatchewan regions, an increase of 18 percent from the previous year. About 80 percent of the clients who completed interventions found employment while 13 percent returned to school for further education.

Thirty two students graduated with Bachelor of Education degrees from the Saskatchewan Urban Native Teacher Education Program (SUNTEP). Another 206 students were in various stages of the teacher education program. Gabriel Dumont College had an enrolment of 136 students, and another 23 students graduated from the Master of Education program.

In 2016-2017, the Gabriel Dumont Scholarship Foundation awarded 338 scholarships and bursaries to Métis students worth over $270,000.

The Institute rolled out a Class 5 driver training program during 2016-2017. The program was offered in Saskatoon and Meadow Lake, and will be extended to other parts of the province.

The Institute continued to promote Métis history and culture in numerous ways via the GDI Publishing Department. These included on-going work on the Métis Veterans Monument at Batoche; expanding our museum/art/archives collection; and hosting National Aboriginal Day events. The Publishing Department also released a number of new publications, was nominated for a Saskatchewan Book Award, and received funding from the National Indian Brotherhood Fund to work on a Métis Atlas of North West Saskatchewan.

It has been my pleasure to work with the Board of Governors, staff, students, communities, and partners as we continue to build on the Institute's many successes.

Meegwetch,
Geordy McCaffrey

Facilities Operations and Development

During 2016-2017, the Honourable Ralph Goodale, the federal Minister of Public Safety and Emergency Preparedness, announced an $880,000 contribution towards an expansion of the Dumont Technical Institute's La Loche campus. The Institute obtained these funds through a successful proposal to the Post-Secondary Institutions Strategic Investment Fund.

Construction started during the reporting year on the $1.6 million expansion of the La Loche programming building and is expected to be completed in 2017-2018. The latest expansion will provide additional space for skills training and adult basic education to the community of La Loche. This is the first time in the history of the Gabriel Dumont Institute that it has received capital funding to increase its capacity in delivering culturally-appropriate skills programming.

Gabriel Dumont Institute is also constructing a second residential unit in La Loche to be used for faculty housing. The faculty housing units significantly assist in the recruitment of quality staff for programming in La Loche. The Institute applied for and received funding from Indigenous and Northern Affairs Canada for this project.

In 2016-2017, Gabriel Dumont Institute initiated a process of expanding its current central office at 917-22nd Street in Saskatoon with an 8,200 square foot addition. The Institute engaged the services of a Métis architect from Laurentian University to make the building a visibly Métis creation (please see an exterior architectural rendering on page 12). The expanded building will house the Gabriel Dumont Institute Publishing Department and a Métis museum. Construction is expected to begin during the next fiscal year.

"The Gabriel Dumont Institute La Loche campus had a total enrolment of 424 students during the past five years. The new expansion will provide capacity for increased enrolment in employer-driven skills training programs and will enable the Institute to fully meet its skills and training mandate in the community of La Loche."

Partnerships

Partnerships are an integral part of Gabriel Dumont Institute operations. Since its founding in 1980, the Institute has built and sustained constructive partnerships with various post-secondary institutions, school divisions, governments, as well as community, and corporate stakeholders, to enhance the success of its Métis students and clients.

During 2016-2017, Dumont Technical Institute partnered with the Northern Village of Pinehouse and Pinehouse Business North to deliver Adult Basic Education (ABE), a trades-focused General Education Development (GED-Apprenticeship), and Industrial Mechanic programs in Pinehouse Lake. Pinehouse Business North and the Northern Village of Pinehouse conducted student recruitment. They also coordinated Elder services and provided classroom space for programming.

Dumont Technical Institute also partnered with the City of Regina to help address transportation challenges faced by its students and clients. Through the City of Regina Transit Fare Assistance Program, the City of Regina allocated 400 2-Ride Adult Passes to the Dumont Technical Institute worth $2,600.

In 2016-2017, Gabriel Dumont Institute Training and Employment and Rupertsland Institute, the Métis Aboriginal Skills and Employment Training Strategy (ASETS) agreement holder in Alberta, partnered to better serve Métis clients in the border city of Lloydminster. Through the partnership, employment counselors from Gabriel Dumont Institute Training and Employment and Rupertsland Institute work at the same location in order to effectively serve Lloydminster's Métis. Rupertsland Institute offered to share working space with Gabriel Dumont Institute Training and Employment in their mobile RV which they use as their offices.

Gabriel Dumont Institute Training and Employment signed a memorandum of understanding (MOU) with the Saskatchewan Research Council (SRC) to provide opportunities to Métis clients in the academic disciplines of science, technology, engineering, and math. The MOU covers a three-year period and will enable Métis university students to benefit from mentorship throughout the school year. The students will also be able to work full time each summer for 16 weeks with the SRC under the Aboriginal Mentorship Program.

There were also collaborations among Gabriel Dumont Institute companies during the reporting year. Gabriel Dumont Institute Training and Employment and Dumont Technical Institute partnered under the Communities-at-Risk Initiative. Gabriel Dumont Institute Training and Employment secured $500,000 in funding via the ASETS which enabled the Dumont Technical Institute to provide programming in the northern communities. These included Scaffolding Pre-Employment Program in La Loche; Class 1A Driver training in Meadow Lake; Multi Sector Safety Tickets training in Beauval and Jans Bay; and Industrial Mechanic (Millwright) program in Cumberland House.

Dumont Technical Institute and Gabriel Dumont Institute Training and Employment have an ongoing partnership to offer Practical Nursing in Prince Albert, Saskatoon, and Regina. The two companies partnered with the Saskatchewan Ministry of Highways and Infrastructure to deliver Heavy Equipment Truck and Transport Mechanic training in Prince Albert and Moose Jaw. Further, Gabriel Dumont Institute Training and Employment provided 33 scholarships to Dumont Technical Institute's Adult Basic Education students during the reporting year. The internal partnerships within Gabriel Dumont Institute maximize efficiency and enhance operational synergies within the Institute.

The Gabriel Dumont Institute continues to create opportunities for public and private investment and participation in Métis education, training, and employment through targeted scholarship and bursary initiatives. The Institute has ongoing partnerships with AREVA Resources Canada, BHP Billiton, Cameco, Conexus Credit Union, Farm Credit Canada, Bradyn Parisian, the Leland and Shari Parisian Family, K+S Potash Legacy GP Inc., SaskTel, SaskEnergy, and the Government of Saskatchewan that provided over 300 scholarships to Métis students during the reporting year.

The Gabriel Dumont Institute also partners with employers to provide Métis learners with training and employment opportunities. For the Institute's practical nursing program, these partnerships were with the Prince Albert Parkland Regional Health Authority, the Regina Qu'Appelle Health Region, the Saskatoon Health Region, and the Cypress Health Region. Further, a partnership with the industry resulted in over 150 new trades-related jobs via the Gabriel Dumont Institute Aboriginal Apprenticeship Project.

Among the Gabriel Dumont Institute's earliest partnership agreements are those with Saskatchewan Polytechnic, the University of Saskatchewan, and the University of Regina to deliver a variety of accredited programs, including certificate and diploma programs, four-year Bachelor of Education degrees (the Saskatchewan Urban Native Teacher Education Program), and a Master of Education program.

"The partnership with Gabriel Dumont Institute will provide greater access to and opportunities for Métis students to excel in a science, technology, engineering, or mathematics education."
—Craig Murray, Vice-President, Mining and Minerals Division, Saskatchewan Research Council

"Our partnership with GDI is an important one for the College of Education and the University as a whole as together we work to deliver a teacher education program that is steeped in language, culture, tradition, and history of Métis people."
—Dr. Michelle Prytula, Dean, College of Education, University of Saskatchewan

Glenn Lafleur, GDI Board of Governors Vice Chair, Craig Murray, Vice-President, Mining and Minerals Division, Saskatchewan Research Council, and Lisa Wilson, Director, GDI Training & Employment

"I came to Dumont Technical Institute for my Grade 12. I was then able to graduate with a nursing degree from the University of Saskatchewan because of funding I received from GDI Training and Employment. I never would have done this without Gabriel Dumont Institute."
—Colin Azure, BSN, RN

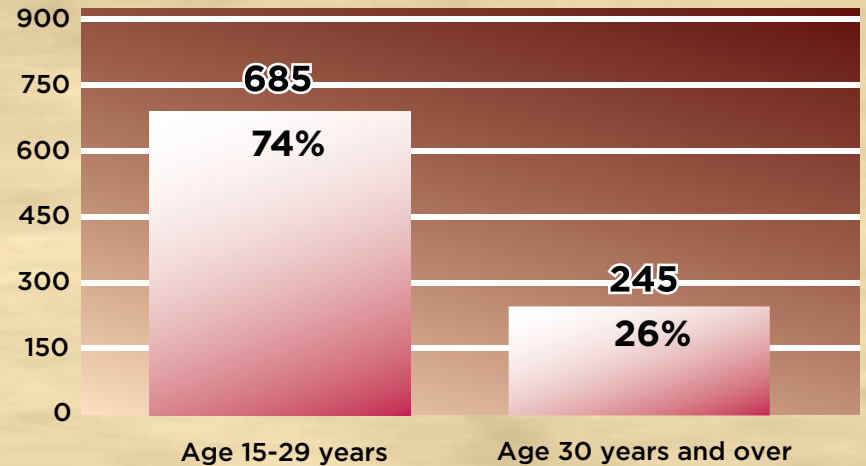

"Because of funding from GDI Training and Employment, I completed a Business Certificate program. I went into this class lost, purposeless, and afraid. Today, I am confident, self-assured, and driven for a future I can finally see with both eyes open."

Indigenous Apprenticeship

In 2016-2017, the Gabriel Dumont Institute Aboriginal Apprenticeship Project (2014-2017) ended successfully having met and surpassed all the performance indicators stated in the funding agreement between Western Economic Diversification Canada and Gabriel Dumont Institute Training and Employment (WD Agreement, Project No.: 000012983). The project had five key targets:

One, creating 150 new apprenticeship jobs across Saskatchewan. In total, 407 unique Indigenous clients were placed with employers, representing 407 new apprenticeship jobs, or 271 percent of the target. This is despite the fact that Saskatchewan's economy was struggling, with unemployment rates rising from 3.3 percent in June 2014 to 6.5 percent in August 2017.

Two, the project aimed to partner with 100 employers in 15 different trades. Gabriel Dumont Institute Training and Employment partnered with 245 employers in 30 different trades, or 245 percent of the target for employers and 200 percent for different trades. Small businesses, with fewer than 50 employees, made up 76 percent of Gabriel Dumont Institute Training & Employment employer partners in the apprenticeship project while medium-size businesses (with 51- 499 employees) and larger organizations (500 or more employees) accounted for 24 percent of the employer partners. These partnerships resulted in contracts for 606 employment positions.

The third target was to have 100 clients indentured with the Saskatchewan Apprenticeship and Trades Certification Commission as apprentices. The project attained 175 percent of this target by having 175 clients indentured. Clients are indentured within 90 days of being placed with an employer.

The fourth was to have 50 indentured clients complete at least one term of technical training at a post-secondary institution. In total, 162 clients completed at least one term of technical training. This represents 324 percent of the GDI Aboriginal Apprenticeship Project's goal.

As well, the project had a target of 50 clients complete a trades-focused General Educational Development (GED-Apprenticeship), a high school equivalency diploma to enable more potential clients meet requirements for the project. A total of 52 (104 percent) clients completed the GED-Apprenticeship program.

Saskatchewan Urban Native Teacher Education Program

In 2016-2017, 32 Saskatchewan Urban Native Teacher Education Program (SUNTEP) students graduated with Bachelor of Education degrees, including 17 from SUNTEP Prince Albert, two from SUNTEP Regina, and 13 from SUNTEP Saskatoon. Another 206 students were registered in Years One to Four at the three centres and in La Ronge.

Northern Teacher Education Program (NORTEP), a program offered in La Ronge and not affiliated with Gabriel Dumont Institute, ceased its operation in 2017 and its funding was directed by the Government of Saskatchewan to Northlands College. Although existing NORTEP students had the option of continuing their studies at Northlands College, 24 of the students chose to continue their education at the Gabriel Dumont Institute. These included the entire Year Four class of 17 students. To make the transition from NORTEP to SUNTEP smooth for the Year Four class, the Gabriel Dumont Institute is offering the Year Four class in La Ronge. Another two former NORTEP students joined SUNTEP Prince Albert and Saskatoon, and five transferred to other Gabriel Dumont Institute programs.

During the reporting year, the Gabriel Dumont Institute released its latest research report SUNTEP: An Investment in Saskatchewan's Prosperity. Authored by University of Saskatchewan economist Eric Howe, the report shows that SUNTEP is securing a prosperous future for Saskatchewan. "SUNTEP graduates are worth over ten million dollars each in bringing about a prosperous future for our province." Noting that SUNTEP graduates provide over $13 billion in benefits to Saskatchewan, Professor Howe wrote that "SUNTEP's very existence helps guarantee the prosperity of our province." The full report is available at <https://gdins.org/about/reports/research>.

SUNTEP is a four-year Bachelor of Education degree program offered by Gabriel Dumont Institute, in partnership with the University of Saskatchewan and the University of Regina in Saskatchewan's three largest urban centres, Saskatoon, Regina, and Prince Albert. SUNTEP places high value in training its students to become effective educators and teacher leaders. The program prepares the future teachers to be sensitive to the individual needs and strengths of all students, particularly Indigenous students. A total of 1,238 Indigenous students have graduated with Bachelor of Education degrees from SUNTEP to date, including 1,015 women and 223 men. Over 970 have become teachers and educational administrators in Saskatchewan and beyond.

"My aunt and cousin were early graduates of SUNTEP Prince Albert. I graduated from SUNTEP Saskatoon in 1996, and my nephew, Tanner Pedersen, is a first-year student in SUNTEP Regina. So three generations of my family have benefitted from SUNTEP."

—Kristine Dreaver-Charles, B.Ed., M.Sc.Ed., Instructional Designer and PhD student, University of Saskatchewan

"Through SUNTEP, I was able to learn more about my history and culture. Métis content was entrenched in the program and has influenced who I am today."

—David Morin, B.Ed., M.Ed. Curriculum Developer, Gabriel Dumont Institute

"The most inspiring part of being in SUNTEP is that it helped my extended family grow closer together through my research on our lineage and history."

—Helen Germann, B.Ed., M.Ed., Teacher, Living Sky School Division, Saskatchewan

"SUNTEP represents the true resilient spirit of Indigenous people past and present. It is the revitalization and preservation of our history, language and traditions that will carry our future generations to good ways of living."

—Mandi Reigh Elles, B.Ed., Teacher, Regina Public School Division

"My mother joined the bachelor of education program at Northern Teacher Education Program in La Ronge but had to withdraw because of family reasons. Years later, SUNTEP gave me the opportunity to finish the journey she started. I became the first in my family to earn a university degree."

—Lorna Regan, B.Ed., Teacher, Saskatchewan Rivers Public School Division

"SUNTEP is a bipartisan success story. When the program was started in 1980, there were less than 10 Indigenous teachers in Saskatchewan's urban schools. To date, 1,238 Indigenous educators have graduated from SUNTEP with 978 (or 79%) working as teachers and school administrators."

—Dr. Earl Cook, Minister of Education, Métis Nation—Saskatchewan and Chair, Gabriel Dumont Institute Board of Governors

Gabriel Dumont College—through affiliation agreements between the Gabriel Dumont Institute and the University of Saskatchewan and the University of Regina—delivers several accredited post-secondary education programs. These include both university-level and non-degree programs. The college's small class sizes, flexible delivery options based on individual needs, and culturally-affirming learning environment emphasize academic excellence and encourage each student's holistic development.

Gabriel Dumont College delivers the first two years of a University of Saskatchewan four-year Bachelor of Arts and Science degree. During the reporting year, eight students were enrolled in the Arts and Science program in Saskatoon. Another 69 students were enrolled in university-level Mathematics and English classes in Prince Albert, including 44 students who were registered for MATH 110 and 25 for ENG 100 courses offered by Gabriel Dumont College at Carlton Comprehensive Collegiate.

During 2016-2017, the Gabriel Dumont College had an enrolment of 136 students. The Practical and Applied Arts (PAA) program, which along with a Bachelor of Education degree, prepares the graduates to teach PAA in Saskatchewan schools, had 22 students. The program is offered at the Gabriel Dumont Institute in Prince Albert in partnership with the University of Saskatchewan.

Twelve students were enrolled in the Gabriel Dumont College Justice Studies program. The second-year diploma students went on a 13-week practicum in the Prince Albert area during the reporting year. The program is offered at the Gabriel Dumont Institute in Prince Albert in partnership with the University of Regina.

Gabriel Dumont College

The second cohort of Master of Education students graduated in 2016-2017. The cohort of 23 students commenced the Master of Education program in July 2015, of which 21 (91 percent) graduated during 2016-2017. A third cohort of 25 students started classes during the reporting year and are expected to graduate in the summer of 2019. The Gabriel Dumont Institute-University of Regina Community-Based Master of Education in Curriculum and Instruction is a two-year cohort-based program offered at the Gabriel Dumont Institute in Prince Albert.

As well as delivering educational programs, Gabriel Dumont College encourages and supports Métis-specific graduate studies in Saskatchewan and beyond. During 2016-2017, the Gabriel Dumont College Graduate Student Bursary Program provided $50,000 in financial assistance to seven Métis graduate students. This was an increase from $24,000 it awarded in bursaries during the previous year.

Most Gabriel Dumont College programs are delivered in Prince Albert. They are intended to address Prince Albert's and northern Saskatchewan's labour market and educational needs and are developed in consultation with the community. The programs integrate theory and practice through coursework and project work. They are tailored to anticipate and respond to community and student needs, including practical and applied arts, justice and security, educational leadership, and building and supporting relational trust within the school and community. The students do not have to leave their communities to get post-secondary education; and after they graduate, they will have a better chance of meeting the local labour market needs. Almost all Master of Education graduates are working in the greater Prince Albert area or in the north.

"We have tried to give the Gabriel Dumont Institute Justice Studies students a good coverage of the entire organization so they experience all facets of the profession."

—Staff Sergeant Frank Borsos, Prince Albert Police Service

"The Master of Education program has been wonderful. Joining the program was one of the best decisions I have ever made in my professional life."

—Christian Hudon, Master of Education, Class of 2017

"I absolutely loved the Master of Education program. It is the best professional development experience ever."

—Marti White Stavely, Master of Education, Class of 2017

"The MEd program made a huge difference in my personal and professional growth. The content delivery was amazing. I learned just as much from the professors as I did from my classmates."

—Dianne Broome, Master of Education, Class of 2017

Library

The Gabriel Dumont Institute Library has three branches in Saskatoon, Prince Albert, and Regina that support the information and research needs of Gabriel Dumont Institute and Dumont Technical Institute programs. Its unique collection, which includes over 40,000 physical items, focuses on Métis and First Nations communities, cultures, and histories. Close to 800 new items were added to the Library's collections, and roughly 4,400 items were borrowed by patrons of the three branches between April 2016 and March 2017.

Library staff work with other library and information service providers to offer free and unrestricted access to information for all visitors to the Library. The Library actively works to develop the information literacy skills (research, critical thinking, and computer skills) of its patrons, which is an important step toward ensuring that Indigenous peoples have full access to library services in Saskatchewan.

In May of 2016, the Prince Albert Library hosted Saskatchewan Polytechnic Library and Information Studies student Brittany Pickering for a three week practicum. The practicum is a chance for students to apply theory to practice and to gain experience in a real working environment. Staff also conducted an inventory of the Prince Albert Library in early June. On February 24, 2017, the Gabriel Dumont Institute Library in Prince Albert held an Indigenous Storytelling event at Dr. Java's Coffee House. Lisa Wilson read from her most recent publication, The Red Files, and the musical guest was Devon DePeel.

The Saskatoon Library continues to be a comfortable and welcoming space for students, faculty, and alumni. With remote assistance from Regina staff, the Student Library Assistant in Saskatoon conducted inventory during the summer of 2016, identifying many missing items for replacement and improving the accuracy of the library catalogue.

The Regina Library welcomed over 12,500 visitors during the 2016-2017 fiscal year. In addition to maintaining the day-to-day operations of the library, staff efforts were focused on supporting the inventory processes in Prince Albert and Saskatoon, as well as a variety of data clean-up projects identified throughout the inventories.

Following Gabriel Dumont Institute Library participation in the creation of the Consortium of Academic and Special Libraries of Saskatchewan (CASLS) in 2015-2016, Gabriel Dumont Institute Library staff were actively involved in CASLS activities during 2016-2017. CASLS, a network of libraries committed to supporting inter-institutional collaboration on innovative solutions for their users, carried out an intensive and co-operative selection process for cloud-based software for managing and searching library collections, also known as a "next-generation" library system. After selecting Ex Libris' Alma/Primo in early 2016, CASLS members, including Gabriel Dumont Institute Library staff, began the long, labour-intensive process of migrating from their existing library systems to the next-generation Alma/Primo system. This project is scheduled for completion in 2017-2018, at which time library users will notice a new and improved search interface for discovering resources held throughout the Gabriel Dumont Institute Library system.

Staff also continued their participation on various committees/boards, including those of CASLS, Library Services for Saskatchewan Aboriginal Peoples (LSSAP), the Saskatchewan Association of Library Technicians (SALT), the National Reading Campaign Aboriginal Round Table, and the Multitype Library Board. Students, staff, and library patrons can access the Gabriel Dumont Institute Library catalogue online at <https://gdins.org/student-services/library/>

The Gabriel Dumont Institute Library is also on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/gdilibrary/>

The Gabriel Dumont Institute Publishing Department is the world's only Métis-specific publisher, curriculum development unit, and cultural resource producer. We produce visual, audiovisual, print, and multimedia resources, which range from the pre-school to post-secondary levels. We also preserve Métis history, languages, and culture by collecting and archiving photographs, artefacts, documents, biographies, and oral histories, and by banking the three Michif languages. The Department is community owned—without the contributions of Métis Elders, culture keepers, authors, illustrators, musicians, and translators, we would not be able to produce our resources. Since 1980, the Department has produced more than 215 innovative and community-affirming Métis-specific resources, which strengthen and preserve the Métis Nation's cultural legacy, while providing balance to one-sided, and often inaccurate, accounts of Métis identity and history. As a result, the Department's resources are well used, highly acclaimed, and are in high demand. The Department publishes under the incorporated name, Gabriel Dumont Institute Press.

2016-2017 proved highly successful for the Publishing Department and Gabriel Dumont Institute Press. Our main challenge over the past few years has been to obtain stable, long-term funding for our publishing and cultural programs. This fiscal year witnessed the restoration of the Métis Cultural Initiative through Indigenous and Northern Affairs Canada (INAC), which is used for our publishing, cultural, and Michif programming. The Department also received funding from INAC to purchase the Métis Nation—Saskatchewan archival and book collection, which will be housed in our office and will be made available to the public. In addition, the Department applied for and received funding from the Canada Council of the Arts (for Métis Christmas Mittens), the National Indian Brotherhood (for the Northwest Saskatchewan Métis Atlas Project), SaskCulture's Canada 150 Fund (for a Michif Language Banking Workshop), and Creative Saskatchewan (for Michif/French versions of Taanishi Books). The Department will build upon this momentum in the upcoming fiscal year with funding applications to the Canada Book Fund and elsewhere.

During the reporting year, Gabriel Dumont Institute Press published the following resources: Métis Christmas Mittens (Leah Marie Dorion); Red Sun: Gabriel Dumont, The Métis Folk Hero (Charles Duncan Thompson); and Stories of Our People/Lii zistwayr di la naasyoon di Michif comic books (Gilbert Pelletier, Jeanne Pelletier, Joe Welsh, Norma Welsh, and Norman Fleury). Work also progressed on a variety of book projects, including the Olive Dickason biography, the Métis Road Allowance Project, the Métis Literature Anthology (Gregory Scofield and Warren Cariou); Little Athapapuskow (Guy Freedman); Kohkum's Babushka: A Magical Métis/Ukrainian Tale (Marion Mutala); and Women of the Métis Nation (Lawrence Barkwell, Leah Marie Dorion, and Anne Acco-Carrière).

- ∞ Working with Parks Canada to ensure Métis content for the new Fort Walsh display;
- ∞ Launching Road Allowance Kitten and Métis Christmas Mittens;
- ∞ Holding several hands-on cultural workshops throughout the province, including at Back to Batoche days;

In 2016-2017, the Department received critical success for Wilfred Burton's Road Allowance Kitten, which was nominated for the Indigenous Peoples' Writing Award, 2017 Saskatchewan Book Awards.

The GDI Publishing Department was nominated for Advancing Education Award for Publishing in Education for the Road Allowance Kitten.

In total, the Gabriel Dumont Institute group of companies administered $30,057,437 in the 2016-2017 fiscal year—a 3.8 percent increase from the previous fiscal operating period.

During the reporting period, funding from federal sources accounted for 46.5 percent of the Institute's total revenues (up from 39.9 percent in the 2015-2016 fiscal operating period); while funding provided by the Province of Saskatchewan comprised 36.7 percent of this total (down from 40.3 percent in the 2015-2016 fiscal operating period).

On the expense side, Gabriel Dumont Institute's total expenditures for the 2016-2017 fiscal operating period were $30,316,271, a 9.6 percent increase over the previous fiscal operating period. Costs associated with programming, instructional costs, and purchased courses comprised the largest portion of total spending as 44.7 percent of all expenditures fall into these categories. Wages and benefits accounted for 37.1 percent of total expenditures. In addition, $271,830 in scholarships and bursaries were awarded to Métis students over this period, an increase of 9.5 percent from $248,150 awarded in financial assistance to Métis students in 2015-2016.

The 2016-2017 fiscal operating period was another year of growth and expansion of Gabriel Dumont Institute infrastructure throughout the province. Dumont Technical Institute began work on a major $1.6 million expansion of the La Loche Learning Centre with capital support from the federal government for the first time in the history of Gabriel Dumont Institute. Dumont Technical Institute is also in the planning stages of a 8,200 square foot expansion of the Institute's central administration building that will facilitate the consolidation of operations in Saskatoon. These upgrades will continue to improve the educational experiences and outcomes for Métis students across the province for years to come.
